

Steward's Honesty Hat

The fourth Sunday of Lent, The Sunday of the Steward, involves a parable told by Jesus (Luke 16:1-13). Its great lesson is the Power of Salvation.

Jesus's parable about an unjust steward who was accused of cheating his master gives us some very concrete clues about what it means to be a "good steward." Jesus tells us: "He that is faithful in a little, is faithful also in much" (Luke 16:10). He asks: "If you have been dishonest with another man's belongings, who will give you something of your own?" (Luke 16:12). And He concludes with the famous saying: "No servant can serve two masters" (Luke 16:13).

We learn that we are responsible to God for all of our works and deeds, and responsible, too, to utilize the gifts He has given us. We should all be prepared, for one day we will be called to give an accounting of ourselves to God.

Supplies

- Sheets of newspaper
- Masking tape
- Colored Markers

Instructions

1. Fold a full sheet of newspaper in half and fold the top two corners down to meet at the center. (see picture to right)
2. Tape with masking tape.
3. Fold up one bottom edge of the newspaper to meet the edge of the folded-down corners, then fold the folded edge up again to meet the edge of the folded-down corners.
4. Fold the folded edge over to create a brim.
5. Flip the paper over and fold up the opposite bottom edge in the same manner.
6. Fold down the top point and tape down.
7. Have students write on their hats, "HONEST STEWARD'S HAT" or other phrases related to the story of the Unjust Steward.
